Circa 1968: Baby Kane, about one year old,
when our family moved back to the United States.

Circa 1982: Me around age fifteen, with my sister, Becky, my father, George, and my mother, Joan.

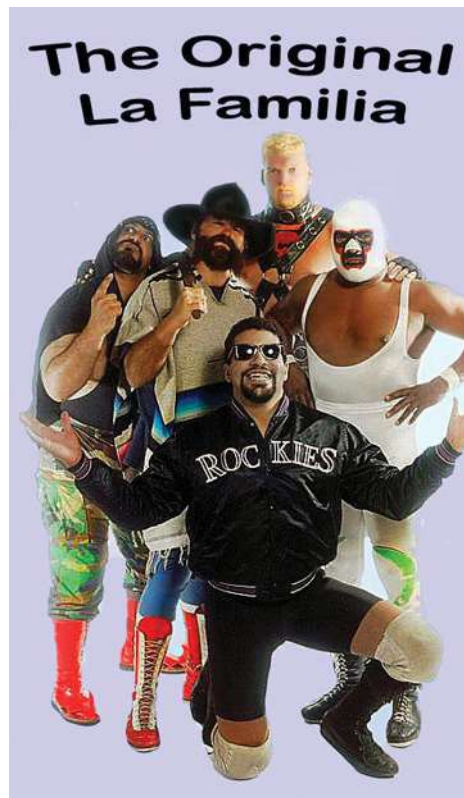

Fall 1990: My senior year at Northeast Missouri State University, where I was a stand-out offensive tackle.

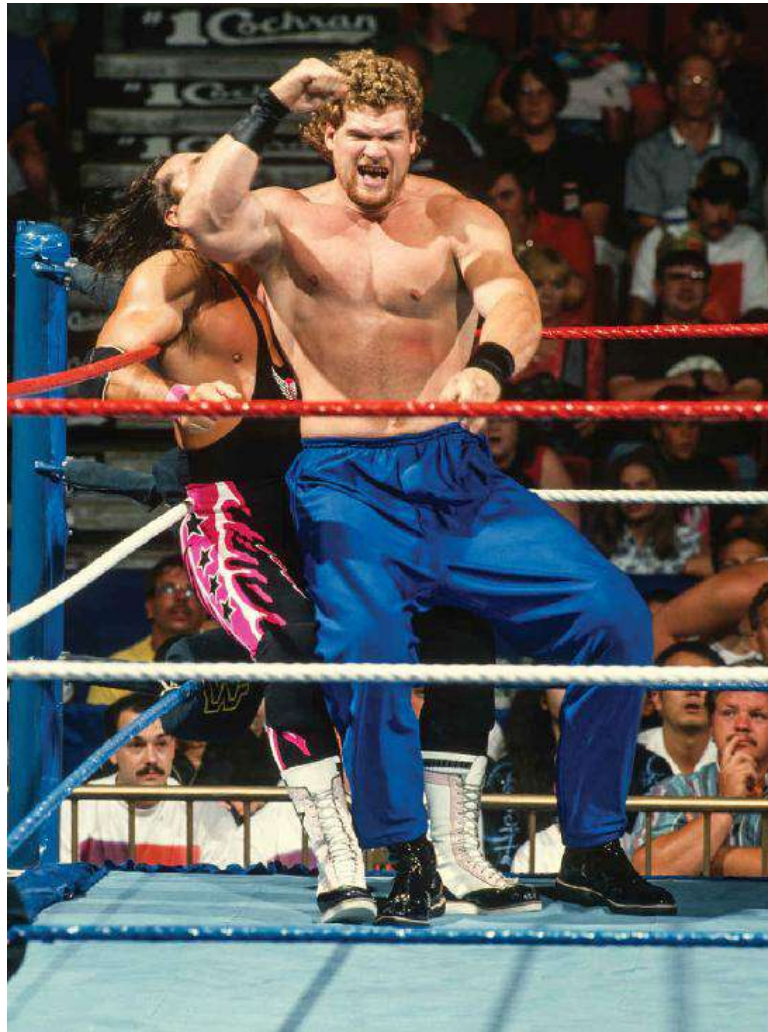

Circa 1992: The first promo pic of my wrestling career, as Angus King.

Circa 1994: Alongside Dutch Mantel (later Zeb Colter in WWE), competing in Puerto Rico as Doomsday.

Dutch Mantel's "The Family": Joe Don Smith, Dutch, El Bronco, Louie Fabiano, and me.

August 27, 1995: Competing as Isaac Yankem, DDS, at SummerSlam.
Not my finest hour, but I was honored to face the Hit Man!

September 23, 1996: "Fake Diesel" led to the ring

by the incomparable Jim Ross, on Raw.

Circa July 1997: Early Kane concept art from WWE Creative.
Ditching the cape was a good call!

October 5, 1997: "That's got to be Kane!"
Making my big red debut at Badd Blood.

January 12, 1998: Kane and Undertaker, teasing the first union of The Brothers of Destruction on Raw.

The union was short-lived. Six days later, at Royal Rumble, Paul Bearer and I set Taker's casket ablaze.

March 29, 1998: Taking the fight to Undertaker in our first official match, at WrestleMania XIV.

April 26, 1998: Flames engulf Undertaker and me during WWE's first-ever Inferno Match, at Unforgiven.

June 29, 1998: WWE Champion for a day on Raw—and loving every second of it! Paul is a bit concerned about my rematch with Stone Cold Steve Austin.

Circa July/August 1998: Posing with Mankind, the first of my seven Tag Team Championship partners.

March 28, 1999: Pete Rose just wouldn't learn his lesson!

August 23, 1999: X-Pac is pumped on Raw for Kane's signature pyro, and my newfound ability to speak!

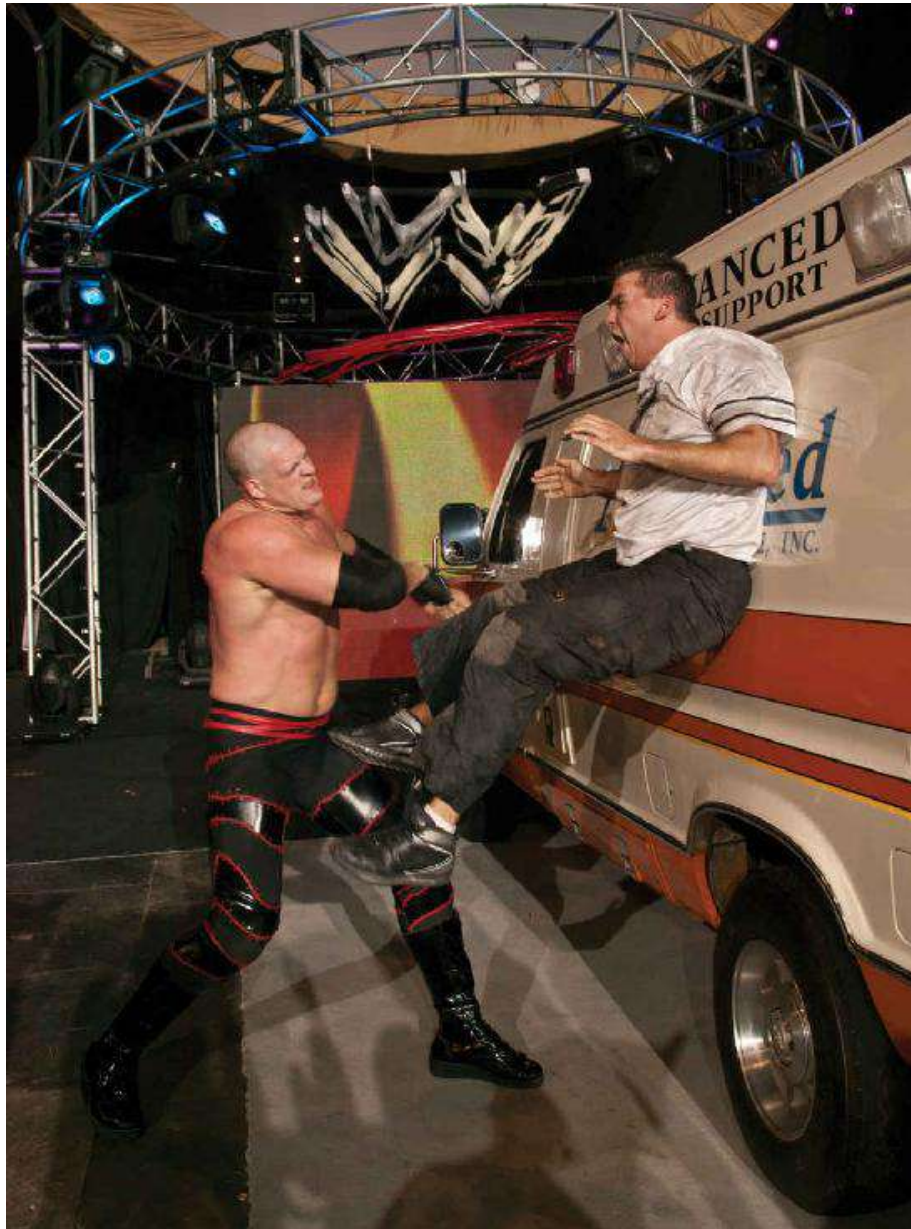

June 23, 2003: Unmasked for the first time in six years, as a fresh reign of terror begins on Raw.

July 14, 2003: My character at his most sinister, forcing Jim Ross to feel his pain on Raw.

July 28, 2003: One of the most terrifying (and awesome!) entrances of my career, on Raw, shackled and flanked by the PD, with a taser aimed at my back!

November 16, 2003: Shane McMahon and I brutalized each other in this Ambulance Match at Survivor Series and throughout our infamous rivalry. He is one of the toughest men I know.

November 16, 2003: At Survivor Series, burying my brother alive—again!

August 23, 2004: Lita is coerced into saying “I do” to The Big Red Monster on Raw. Isn’t she thrilled?

June 20, 2005: Jilted by Lita for Edge, Kane takes the high road on Raw—and Chokeslams a priest.

Circa 2006: My other demonic alter-ego, Jacob Goodnight, on the set of See No Evil.

July 18, 2010: At Money in the Bank, starting my first and only reign with the classic World Heavyweight Championship, made famous by “Nature Boy” Ric Flair.

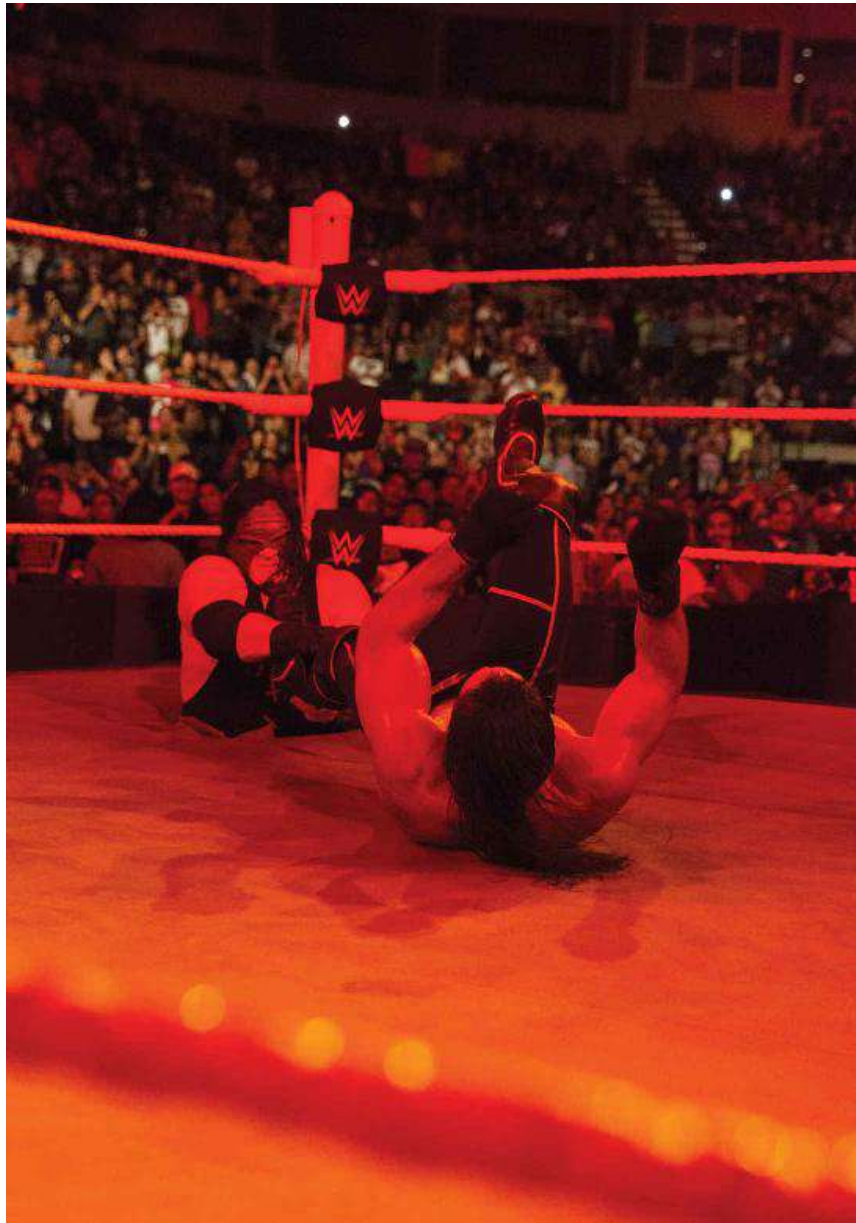

September 3, 2012: "Hugging it out" with Daniel Bryan on Raw, to the delight of the WWE Universe.

January 21, 2013: Team Friendship—better known as Team Hell No—graduates Dr. Shelby's anger management class on Raw.

December 2, 2014: Doing The Authority's bidding on SmackDown, as WWE's director of operations.

September 21, 2015: The Demon returns on Raw to drag Seth Rollins to hell!

My brother, Bryan, Becky, and me in 2005, at Mom and Dad's 50th wedding anniversary.

My wife, Crystal, and me with our granddaughter Maddison, on election night in 2018.

Me and Crystal with “Nature Boy” Ric Flair and his wife, Wendy Barlow, at a campaign fundraiser in 2018.

Meeting Judge Andrew P. Napolitano, a major influence in my political career, circa 2018.

Squeezing all seven feet of me into a Smart Car to hit the campaign trail in 2018.
(The dinosaurs in the background are proof that you never know what to expect when campaigning!)

Outgoing mayor (now congressman) Tim Burchett (right) and me with WWE Superstar Rusev. Burchett declared it "Rusev Day" in Knox County at a 2018 campaign event.

Genuinely starstruck in 2019: With Lisa Kennedy Montgomery, of the FOX Business Network, and my political hero, Ron Paul.

Crystal and I with Senator Rand Paul, who endorsed my campaign for mayor, in 2019.
